Historian Article for December, 2019

This being my final article, I just want to say I was able to get the history of a lot of members, things I would not have known had I not dug-in.

I have to say the one person that stands out for me was the article I did on Ethel Gray. I met Ethel when she worked out at Willamette Speedway. We talked when we could, and she kept up on my Grandsons, Brody and Briley when they were both racing the Cage-Karts. Then when Ed and I met she was like, hmmm... Later Ed and I joined the Rollin' Oldies and were at a General Meeting (the newbies) there she was, Ms. Ethel Gray. Surprise..Surprise!

I was able to put together some pretty interesting albums for display which as we all know that is one of the things the Historian is supposed to do. I kind of got my plate too full and didn't take care of that like I should have.

I know that John Wood will do a great job as the in-coming Historian. I hope my articles were worthy of the title. It has been an awesome ride...

Sincerely, Dottie Andersen

Rollin' Oldies November Car of the Month - Floyd McMillin's 1950 Chevrolet Business Coupe

Floyd has had this 1950 Chevrolet Business Coupe for over 20 years. At one time it was T-boned on the right side. This required the door to be replaced and the front fender and quarter panel to be repaired. The whole car was repainted. The paint is now ten years old and still looking good. Rollin' Oldies December Car of the Month – Verle Steele's 1966 Thunderbird Town Landau (BluJay)

(Every car has a story. This one has quite a few twists and turns, so stay with it. –editor)

Carol and I bought BluJay in 1985. We drove it around for a couple years and then it was parked for quite a spell. Our girls were getting older and we were doing a lot of camping and riding and play days with our horse club. We helped re-start the Brownsville Pioneer Saddle Club and were also heavily involved with the Oregon Equestrian Trails horse club. BluJay did not get too much attention during those years.

In 1995, I found new employment in Salem. BluJay was still in the barn, and there just was no time to play with her. My administrative assistant told me her husband was a body and fender man. I told her about BluJay and she told her husband. I talked with my assistant's husband, who said he would be glad to come down to my shop in Brownsville and work on BluJay. (He lived in Jefferson.) Starting around 1998, this worked out well for a while. BluJay was getting her skin primed and cleaned, and her body was getting toned up. I would come home from a trip and she was looking better and better. In the meantime I had also purchased a 2nd '66 T-Bird for parts. The car was complete, but the motor would not run.

Around 2001-2002, BluJay was ready for her final paint. The body guy said he would like to take both T-Birds up to Jefferson so he could use a paint shop up there to finish the paint, and then utilize the best parts from each bird for BluJay. Beginning in early 2001, I was frequently gone from home with my work with dislocated workers. BluJay became something forgotten. You know, out of sight, out of mind.

When things slowed down around 2003-2004, I asked my assistant about BluJay. During this time she and her husband had divorced. She said she would contact him. A year went by, and finally I said I really needed to talk with him about BluJay. He would not meet with me. I finally said I was going to the law if I did not get BluJay back. Finally found out he had taken her to a shop for the paint, but never paid the shop. By the time I found out where she was, I was one week away from the shop selling her for the paint charge. As you can imagine, there were some pretty heated exchanges between me and the shop. I still had the title, and the shop still had a lien against the car. I had to pay for a paint job that I had already paid for. I was one week away from losing her. When I got her home, I just blocked her up in the corner of my shop. The parts t-bird car was gone.

She sat in my shop til 2011. My 50th class reunion was coming up in 2012, and my buddy Ron said we should get BluJay ready for the reunion. He helped me get her running again. I took her down to Donny's in Brownsville and he repainted her and put her back together just in time for the reunion. She still needed a lot more TLC, but she was running. As far as I know, she has the original 390 engine. We have added a Holley 650 doublepump, and have installed a custom-built exhaust with electric exhaust cutouts, and air shocks on rear. The wheels are from the '60's era. The interior is original, a little worn, but so am I.
